From the Captain's Chair

Billy Brehm—President

Captain's Logbook
Nineteenth Entry:
June 16, 2010

Alas, once past the stinging winds and rain, the warm breeze and hot sun on me face reminds me that Summer be finally here. Many pardons for me absence this eve, but myself and the cutthroat ye know as Kristin must sail South to evaluate the latest batch of soldiers finishing their training and wish them well on their journeys (including one Brian, her son). But we will return with renewed vigor for the upcoming events! Dare I say we be a mere week from the appearance of Mr. Buffett at the Port of Alpine? It appears we have quite a line up of carousing and carrying on this summer that only a group such as we can put together! Prime yer livers lads, its' gonna be a daunting cruise this year, and I look forward to sailing it with each and every one of ye!

Bloody Bill

The Pirate King

New recipe for summer:

Whale Stew

Ingredients

1 whale

2 rabbits (optional)

Salt and Pepper to taste

Cut whale into bite size pieces. This should take about 2 months. Add enough brown gravy to cover. Cook over coal fire for about 4 weeks at 405 degrees. This will serve a crew of 3,800. If the crew is larger, the 2 rabbits may be added, but do this only if necessary, as most sailors do not like hare in their stew.

Bon appétit!

BOB NOONAN IS FREE!!!

For those of you that have not heard the entire story, here is a short version of what happened.

Back in 2008 at MOTM, the Golden Coconut was awarded to Panama City Parrot Head Club. Well, there was no one there in attendance from their club, and the Golden Coconut was set down and simply left there like no one cared about it. Well, in the fun spirit of a true Parrot Head, Bob Noonan picked it up and was walking around the room and was having pictures taken with it with anyone that wanted their picture taken. After a couple of "pops" Bob decided it was time to take a nap. Everyone had pretty much left, so he took the trophy to his room with every intention of bringing it down after his nap. Well, next think you know there was a knock at the door by two very large security men. Asking Bob for the trophy. He immediately returned it and thought that was that. Well next thing he knew Bob was banned from MOTM for "Stealing the Golden Coconut".

Bob has since contacted the Panama City Parrot Head Club and they have forgiven him and he is now released to once again attend MOTM. So with that said, will you be at MOTM 2010 to see what kind of trouble we can get into?

Registration is open, www.phip.com don't miss out, Bob has sent his registration in and already booked his flight. He has said he will not be attending Fantasy Fest again this year, who knows what NUDE BOB will be up to.

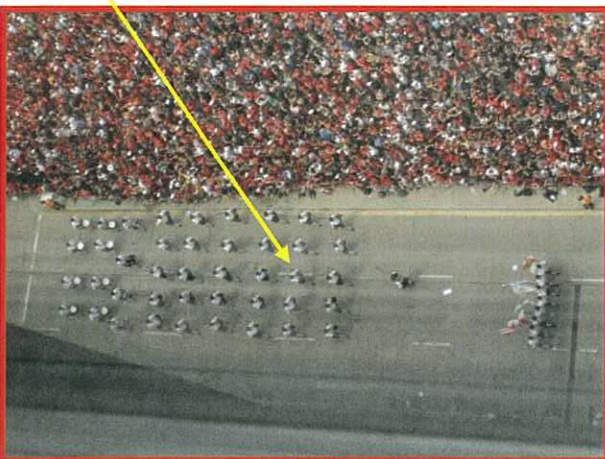

Bob has also offered to organize the list of our club's attendees along with cell phone numbers for drunk dialing/texting.

If you would like to be included in Bob's regular email list of attendees of MOTM from Chicago, please let him know.

And some of you know he does a "loose schedule of events" with contact names and phone numbers. He has done this for the past few years and it is helpful in contacting and gathering with everyone in the Keys.

Please contact Bob Noonan right away with your Name, email address, and cell phone number. rnooner@aol.com

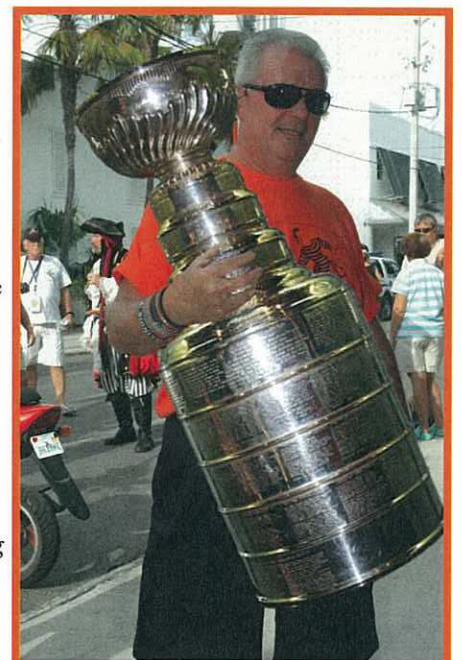

Blackhawk Stanley Cup celebration news.... Our own president Billy was part of this celebration. If anyone was at the parade downtown or watched it on TV and saw an awesome band called the Shannon Rovers leading the parade.....Billy was in it!

The guy walking in the second row center is Billy! Look at the crowd!!!!

the parade.....Billy was in it! "Not that you can pick me out with everyone marching along, but the minute we started playing the crowd went nuts and led the Hawks all the way in and it was just such an awesome experience to be part of!"

So my next thought is, if Bob was banned from Key West but lives in Chicago, but then gets banned from Chicago.....do you then have to live in key West?

Breaking news.... Blackhawks win the Stanley Cup, but is Bob in trouble yet again???????

Here is what Bob had to say: "I need advice: what do I do with this big Stanley Cup thing? I took it as a joke. Do you think Mayor Daley will think so too? Banned from Chicago? Is that possible? News at 10 pm"

For those Parrotheads wondering where the smiling face of our own Sharon Marek has been, here is a quick update. After what has been a battle with cancer about 9 times now, and different kinds to boot, we know that the latest one has taken hold and we have run out of treatment options. BUT....although she is home and often sleepy and doesn't get out much, she has a hankering for margaritas and can be found daily on Face book chatting away or tending the farm. Her brother Art comes often and friends and family get there when they can. She welcomes a friendly hello and as always just continues to defy the odds. Like she told us the last time we stopped by, she just doesn't believe it, and won't admit it, so I guess she will just keep going!

Even though the temperatures have reach a high of 109 in Arizona, (yes there is something to be said about a dry heat) John and Jean Motal are having the time of their lives. Jean's brother was married in Las Vegas a couple of weeks ago. Elvis walked the bride down the aisle, and serenaded the happy couple after the ceremony with the song "Viva Las Vegas" The Motal's have decided when they remarry, it will be there! Jean has found there are many casino's in the area that have daily bus trips. "I have not won enough to report to the IRS, but I am still playing on their money".

 If you are thinking about attending Phins to the West in 2011, the dates have been changed. So mark your calendars now. The official dates are May 13, May 14, & May 15.

Karen and Dan Boylan just returned from a trip to Atlanta....

We managed to pack a lot in our five day trip. A Braves game (they swept the Phillies, bad few weeks for Philadelphia fans!), World of Coke, CNN , Olympic Park, Stone Mountain State Park , Atlanta Zoo, Jimmy Carter Museum, Georgia Aquarium and The Varsity _ the world's largest drive-in (according to the travel channel). The best part was visiting my friend Anne and her adorable daughter Marisa, we even babysat for an afternoon giving mom a much needed break to run errands . Unfortunately we missed Anne's husband Corey—he is serving our country flying wounded troops out of Afghanistan to a hospital in Germany. The purpose of the trip was for me to attend a conference, so while I spent a day in meetings Dan continued to tour the city—going to the Martin Luther King Jr. sites and he found his way to Duluth, GA the home of the Southeastern Rail Museum.

Since we were away we had to watch the Blackhawks games 3 & 4 in the hotel bar. There was somebody in the bar very happy to see other Chicago fans it was Greg Fox, who was #2 on the Chicago Blackhawks from 1978 to 1984.

Former Blackhawk Greg Fox with the Boylans and some of their friends watching Stanley Cup Game 4 in Atlanta.

1. A murderer is condemned to death.. He has to choose between three rooms. The first is full of raging fires, the second is full of assassins with loaded guns, and the third is full of lions that haven't eaten in 3 years. Which room is safest for him?
2. A woman shoots her husband. Then she holds him under water for over 5 minutes. Finally, she hangs him. But 5 minutes later they both go out together and enjoy a wonderful dinner together. How can this be?
3. What is black when you buy it, red when you use it, and gray when you throw it away?
4. Can you name three consecutive days without using the words Wednesday, Friday, or Sunday?
5. This is an unusual paragraph. I'm curious as to just how quickly you can find out what is so unusual about it. It looks so ordinary and plain that you would think nothing was wrong with it. In fact, nothing is wrong with it. It is highly unusual though. Study it and think about it, but you still may not find anything odd. But if you work at it a bit, you might find out. Try to do so without any coaching! Answers on page 5 for those of you who may not know, Lucy Buffett is Jimmy Buffett's sister.

Dear coastal inhabitants everywhere and all who know the joy of putting their toes in the ocean: I can't remember when we have had a lovelier spring along the Gulf Coast. In recent years, we have gone from crisp, clear mornings in February to tropical 90s temps by mid-March. But this year, it finally seemed that we were getting back to normal — back to the easy, Southern rhythms of my childhood, with the winter season moving gently into a luscious spring. Spring was taking its own sweet time unfolding before diving head-on into the desperate heat of summer. Everyone could feel it. You couldn't help but notice the majesty and color of the coastal foliage bursting with brilliant pinks and purples, sounding the calls that we wait for all year long: "Let's go to the beach!" "The fish are biting at the Big Mouth!" "Let's take a boat ride!" "Tadpoles are out in the creek!"

That is how we live here on the Gulf Coast. Our love of the water — the Gulf, the bays, the rivers, the estuaries — and the way we enjoy it is absolutely holistic. It transcends race, religion, socioeconomic status, age, gender and political affiliation. The Gulf Coast is where the everyday person can play. We love where we live and are proud of it. We get amused sharing it and seeing the surprise on folks' faces when they realize that a little piece of unlikely paradise exists smack at the bottom of this magnificent country of ours.

So imagine our dismay, anger, grief and absolute heartbreak over the ongoing catastrophe of crude oil continuously and arrogantly flowing into our beautiful Gulf of Mexico. This is indeed a major challenge for us physically, emotionally, environmentally and economically. Personally, I prefer to remain positive about the oil spill's impact, because I know mountains can be moved with a positive attitude. Why wouldn't that work with a runaway well? I do, however, live in a very real world, and I know that our corner of this world stands to be affected by the oil spill. As we are called to action, we will respond with the dauntless spirit of coastal people, especially those born in the hurricane corridor. We will weather this storm as we have weathered the other monsters that have roared upon our shores in the past: by working hard, side by side, with dedication, compassion and a sense of community, and earning some fun in the process. I am hoping that there will be little damage or interruption of beach recreation. Perhaps the oil spill will be just an inconvenience, much like too many jellyfish in the water or the occasional riptides. If not, we are going to need everyone's love, support and help. So I have a very special invitation for people to join us here in Gulf Shores and Orange Beach and on Dauphin Island and Mobile Bay. Don't cancel your plans or reservations. This could be one of the most memorable vacations you will ever have. Most of you travel with children. What a great opportunity to teach our kids so many valuable life lessons — from the beauty of volunteering to the importance of helping your neighbor during a crisis, learning about the fragile ecosystem that created the remarkable Gulf of Mexico, and meeting new friends from all over the country with the same purpose of keeping our beautiful shores safe for our children and wildlife.

Recently, I asked a friend of mine's 6-year-old if she knew how many oceans there were. "One, Miss Lucy," she promptly responded. Then with a little hesitation, she added, "Don't they all touch?" Out of the mouths of babes.

What is happening in our back yard could just as easily be happening in yours. But does it matter? We are all one. We all touch. Am I outraged? Damn right! Is there a need for accountability? Damn right! But that is not my job. There are others who are trained and better equipped to master that task. I'm a fry cook. I'm open for business. And so is the Alabama Gulf Coast.

We will take each day as it comes and make the best of it. I am asking all of you who love this area as much as I do and love your own coastal areas to please not abandon us.

I promise you we will welcome you with open arms, some ice-cold sweet tea, an ocean of belly laughs, a plate full of scrumptious food and a humble, grateful heart.

1. The third room. Lions that haven't eaten in three years are dead. That one was easy, right?
2. The woman was a photographer. She shot a picture of her husband, developed it, and hung it up to dry (shot; held under water; and hung).

Chicago Alzheimer's Association "Memory Walk" 2010

The Numbers are Mind Boggling. THIS COULD BE YOU!!!

In 2011, the first baby boomers will reach their 65th birthdays. By 2029, all baby boomers will be at least 65 years old. This group, totaling an estimated 70 million people aged 65 and older, will have a significant impact on the U.S. healthcare system. According to the Alzheimer's Association, Alzheimer's is the 7th leading cause of death in America with an estimated 5.3 million people of all ages currently having the disease.

Saturday September 11, is this year's Memory Walk. It is at a new location, Lincoln Park South Field, 1800 N. Stockton, in Chicago. Check in starts at 9a.m. and the Walk begins at 10a.m. Our club is already registered for the Walk thanks to our member and Memory Walk Captain, Bob Noonan. You can join our team by logging on to the Association's web site at www.alz.org, and then registering yourself with team Chicago Parrot Heads! You can also increase your fundraising efforts for the fight against Alzheimer's by creating your own fundraising page on the site. It's very easy and Bob and I are the only members on our team right now, so get online and get yourselves registered!

We'll be walking 3.2 miles around beautiful Lincoln Park near Lake Michigan and Bob is making plans for us to get together after the Walk for some fun and festivities. Bob's got some fun ideas and if you have any suggestions, please contact him at Rnooner@aol.com. Some of the current ideas are Trader Todd's, picnic in the park, or a boat cruise. Whatever we end up doing, Bob says we must behave, because we have the Misericordia Family Fest the next day, Sunday September 12. At any rate, please get yourselves registered for the Walk, send emails to your family and friends from your Walk fundraising page and let's raise LOTS of money to end Alzheimer's and help those who are suffering with it.

And just a little side note...this is how I became involved with the Parrot Heads! I worked for the Alzheimer's Association and PHIP was my donor. So about six years ago I went to MOTM to speak to club members and was on the Casa's beach and stage for a big check presentation from PHIP to the Alzheimer's Association. That was it, I was hooked and I've been attending MOTM ever since and then finally became a Parrot Head myself!

Other Charity Efforts

Alpine Valley Under the Big Top is just around the corner

Just wanted to check in and let everyone know where we stand at this time. Please note, many of you have guests coming and you are the contact person, so please fill in your friends!

First: Note real quick that if we have our people WAITING at each stop and are ready to go, we will weigh anchor and move on to the next stop consecutively until we head North!

All pick ups are conveniently next to a hotel if you choose to stay overnight. If you are NOT staying overnight, some of the hotels ask that you pay a parking fee so they will not tow your car.

As it stands, we will start off with our first pick up behind Curtain wall Services in Elmhurst.

NOW.....for anyone that has tailgated at Alpine, they have really thrown a curveball at everyone. They are refusing to open the gates sooner than 3:00 pm. But we happen to have friends in low places. The bus will move to a place in Lake Geneva called Hemingway's which is owned by a club friend. He is providing us with 2 parking places for our busses and allowing us to tailgate with our own food and drinks (and of course we will allow some budgetary spending at his place for his hospitality), and enjoy his live music (Mr. Myers!) and he will be sending scouts to Alpine to check the gate situation. As soon as the gates open, if early, he calls us, we pack up and head to Alpine. Otherwise, we pack up and head over to get in when the time comes.

Once in Alpine.....our Grillmasters fire it up first thing and provide dinner before the show. Venue allows entrance at 6:30, concert at 8:00, and the busses depart for home 1 hour after the show stops. As per our registration forms, we do not wait for stragglers, so please head for the busses right away for a farewell cocktail and jello shot!
